Oliver Tree, the Santa Cruz, CA genre-defying singer/songwriter/producer is back with his debut EP, Alien Boy. Highlighted by lead singles, “Alien Boy” and “All That,” Oliver Tree’s EP blends alternative / electronic influences with his signature vocals. The EP is now available at all DSPs and streaming services here.

Along with the Alien Boy EP, Oliver has unveiled the outrageous video for “Alien Boy” x “All That,” where Oliver can be seen cruising around on everything from a Razor scooter to a monster truck wrapped in a 90s Solo cup design. Watch the video here.

Since making his festival debut this past summer with solo sets at Lollapalooza and Outside Lands, Oliver Tree has recently made waves with his fun and eccentric singles “Upside Down” and fan-favorite, “Enemy,” which saw Oliver team up with friend and frequent collaborator, Whethan. Oliver joined Whethan on select dates last year and also teamed up with friends Louis The Child on select dates of their 2017 tour, including a sold-out show at Los Angeles’ famed Hollywood Palladium. This tour was just the next on the ever-growing list of live shows for Oliver Tree

Always creating new and exciting comedic content, Oliver Tree has been landed support and continues to collaborate with massive meme accounts such as Fuckjerry, Pakalupaitocamel, Hoodclips, Worldstar, and is actively pushing the boundaries of music and memes.

Having made a striking debut with a visionary, Thom Yorke-approved cover of Radiohead's "Karma Police," Tree soon shook up the music scene with featured collaborations including Whethan vs. Oliver Tree's "When I'm Down" and Getter's "Forget It \(Feat. Oliver Tree\)." Tree lit up last year's Coachella with his distinctive look – featured in LA Weekly's "The Best \(And Weirdest\) Fashion At Coachella 2017" – and memorable live appearance alongside frequent collaborator Whethan. In addition, Tree recently made his network television debut by joining Getter for a live rendition of "Forget It" on NBC's Last Call with Carson Daly.
