Rising vocal powerhouse Alicia Creti is set to captivate audiences this March with Live From The Mindfields, an intimate two-night tour celebrating her first headline shows and artistic evolution at The Echo in Los Angeles on March 24 and Baby's All Right in New York on March 26.

The performances will spotlight fan favorites from her 2024 debut EP SELF/LESS alongside new music from her highly anticipated upcoming project, MINDFIELDS, arriving March 6. Live From The Mindfields promises an immersive, soul-baring experience, bringing her diary-like storytelling and commanding vocals to life on stage. Alicia Creti weaves power from pain, introspection, and the journey of finding one's most authentic self into a sound that transcends genre.

Alicia shares, "MINDFIELDS the project is pulling the curtain back and facing all the doubts, insecurities and fears that I've pushed down. It's about pushing yourself and self discovery and self acceptance. It's a step by step glimpse into my mind and the different facets of my heart and soul."

With elegant, powerful vocals and humbly confident songwriting, Alicia Creti weaves self-reflection, heartbreak, and the full spectrum of human emotion into a sound that transcends genre. Rooted in nostalgic soul yet undeniably contemporary, her music invites listeners deep into her inner world.

With only two exclusive shows scheduled, Live From The Mindfields offers fans a rare opportunity to experience Alicia Creti's artistry in its purest, most powerful form.
