Texas-born pop artist Tiffany Stringer has officially entered a new era with the release of her label debut single - “Bullet” is available now via Atlantic Records.

Produced by Jack Riley (Cameron Whitcomb, Jenna Raine), the infectious break-up anthem is joined by a beautifully cinematic video, written by Tiffany herself & directed by Logan Rice (Jessie Murph, MARINA). Watch the visual, which taps into her love of classic Hollywood films, HERE.

“Bullet is the pop country SMASH I wrote after finding out my cheating ex got married” says Tiffany. “He moved to Nashville and I decided to write a country song so he couldn’t escape the sound of my voice. I honestly started writing it out of spite, but ultimately it became a way for me to express myself and turn that hurt into joy.”

Tiffany is redefining the modern star by blending the unapologetic energy of early-2000s icons with a raw, confessional edge. After moving to LA at 17, she reached critical mass with her 2025 EP, The Texas Primadonna, earning praise from Ones To Watch as “nothing less than pop-perfection.” With over 20M social media views and co-signs from Halsey, Addison Rae, and Tate McRae, Tiffany’s iridescent delivery shines on her latest single "Bullet." Following a sold-out debut headline show in Los Angeles, she continues to cement her status as a fearless, captivating voice in pop with more new music to come this year.

ABOUT TIFFANY STRINGER:

Bright lights and camera flashes traditionally illuminate everything on the outside. However, Tiffany Stringer takes control of the spotlight and shines it directly on what's inside. Her iridescent delivery and radiant personality enable a spectrum of emotions to sonically glow, brightening up memories of heartbreak, the butterflies of new romance, and the joy of falling in love on her songs. With a burst of light, this Texas girl brings positivity, personality, passion, and pure attitude to pop, threading clever and candid lyrics into the heart of relatable anthems. After high school, she picked up and moved to Los Angeles to pursue her dream. Grinding to be heard, she dropped a steady string of tracks online, gathering millions of streams on "End of an Era" and "Oh My God." In 2025, she reached critical mass with her EP, The Texas Primadonna. The title track surged reaching millions of streams, and she incited tastemaker praise. Ones To Watch hailed the EP as "catchy, kitschy, and nothing less than pop-perfection." Beyond touring with Stella Cole, The Two Lips, and more, she received co-signs from the likes of Halsey, Addison Rae, Dove Cameron, and Tate McRae. Now, she shines like never before on her 2026 Atlantic Records debut.
